

Daniel L. Schacter

The Seven Sins of Memory

Daniel L. Schacter, Harvard professor and world-famous memory researcher, explains the common failings of human memory by analogy with the famous "seven deadly sins." Based on years of research, including recent images of the brain forming memories, Schacter's framework provides lucid insights into the functioning of the human mind and memory.

11 am
Monday, January 13
Bartos Theater
MIT Media Lab

Sponsored by the MIT Media Lab, Georgia Tech, and DARPA